Exploring Privacy, Self-Sovereignty
and Trustless Innovation

LAST UPDATE

Our Aave Monitor browser extension is a lightweight, privacy-focused tool that helps users track their Aave Health Factor and other key account metrics across multiple addresses and different blockchains in real time.
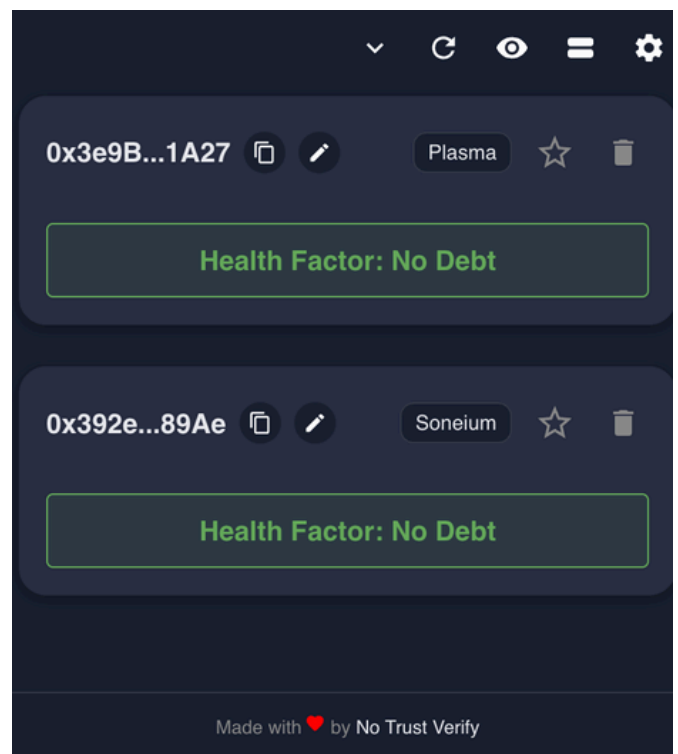

Over the course of this month, we released versions 2.9.0 and 2.9.1 on the Chrome Web Store, introducing several enhancements and new supported networks.

Version 2.9.0 includes:
- Added Celo and Plasma to supported networks
- Introduced Compact Mode to monitor multiple Health Factors at a glance
- Added custom labels to replace 0x addresses
- Refined the interface to align with Aave's native look and feel

Version 2.9.1 adds:
- Soneium network support
- Ink network support

Aave Monitor continues to evolve with a focus on simplicity, privacy, and compatibility across DeFi ecosystems.

You can follow the latest updates on the Aave Governance Forum and download the extension here.
